

MRF is a company that develops, produces, and markets components for industrial bodywork and other industrial sectors, where our know-how and our technical means allow us to provide differential solutions that are highly adapted to the most demanding standards, and where the safety and health of our employees and suppliers, the Environment and the Quality of our products are Core Values.

Accordingly, MRF is regulated by the following basic principles:

- Consolidate in the Organization the culture for continuous improvement and waste reduction in all areas of the company, promoted through innovation, technology, quality, occupational safety, and respect for the environment.
- Orientation to Quality since we work to meet the requirements and needs of the customers, exceed their expectations, and achieve their full satisfaction.
- Fully comply with the legal requirements and regulations in force, the specific requirements of the customer and the product, as well as other obligations acquired.
- Motivate, train, and sensitize the MRF staff to achieve the professional development of its members, favouring teamwork, communication, participation, and transparency that stimulate a climate of mutual trust, promoting their satisfaction.
- Promote the practice of analysing the life cycle of products and raw materials used, reduction and recovery of waste, energy efficiency and pollution prevention, as a standard of conduct and action.
- Always keep a strategic vision based on minimizing the identified risks and permanently analyse the information to reduce threats, prevent failures, improve the processes, products and services that MRF offers to customers.
- Integrate our collaborators, suppliers, and other interested parties in the commitment to quality, environment, occupational risk prevention and social responsibility, aligned with our fundamental objectives
- Guarantee the safety, active protection, and health surveillance of all workers, preventing accidents and professional illnesses.
- Ensure the permanent ethical behaviour of all MRF workers, keeping absolute confidentiality at work and data protection regarding customers and suppliers.

To guarantee the development of these principles, at MRF we have implemented an Integrated Management System (IMS) which includes the following certifications: Risk Prevention Management according to ISO 45001, Environmental Management according to ISO 14001 and Quality Management according to ISO 9001.

The MRF Management ensures that the Quality, Health, and Safety Policy is communicated, understood and applied by all Company personnel and all the necessary and sufficient resources are assigned, in accordance with the established requirements.

The effectiveness of the Quality, Environment and Occupational Risk Prevention Management System is based on the compliance of the IMS requirements, and it is direct responsibility of the MRF Management, which considers its compliance as a basic and permanent objective.
